

100 women in hedge funds®

Communications Committee Bios

Co-Chairs

Sherrie Beehler
Stacey Jo Mills Tié Lyster Watson and Company

Board Champion

Dana Hall D.E. Shaw & Co., L.P.

Committee Members

Erin Arvedlund Bernstein Global Wealth Management
Amanda Cantrell EuroHedge
Sarah-Eva Carlson Investars
Janet Falk Falk Communications and Research
Monica Sangani JP Morgan

Sherrie Beehler

Ms. Beehler worked at Oppenheimer since 2001. Most recently, Ms. Beehler served as Vice President of Alternative Investments where she focused on fundamental research and quantitative analysis of distressed securities. Prior to joining Oppenheimer, Ms. Beehler worked at Sagemark Consulting, in Private Wealth Management. Ms. Beehler is a member of NYSSA and the CFA Institute, and is currently the Communications Chairperson for 100 Women in Hedge Funds.

Ms. Beehler earned a B.S. in Finance from the University at Buffalo, and is currently a Level II candidate in the CFA Program.

Stacey Jo Mills Tié, Investor Relations & Fund Administration, Lyster Watson and Company

Ms. Mills Tié joined Lyster Watson and Company in 2004. Her responsibilities include investor relations and fund administration for Lyster Watson's Fund of Hedge Fund business. Ms. Mills Tié is also responsible for Lyster Watson's business continuity and disaster recovery plans, and she supports the office management team.

Stacey graduated from the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in 2004 and is currently studying Finance at Pace University.

Dana Hall, Senior Vice President, D.E. Shaw & Co., L.P., Co-Founder 100 Women in Hedge Funds

Dana Hall is a senior vice president and the director of consultant relations in the D. E. Shaw group's investor relations group. Prior to joining the D. E. Shaw group in 2006, Ms. Hall was a managing director of Lighthouse Partners, L.L.C., a fund of funds management firm she co-founded in 1999. From 1996 to 1998, she was a senior vice president of Delaware Investments. Before that, Ms. Hall was director of product development at Zurich Investments, a quantitative fixed income insurance investment manager located in Bermuda. From 1990 to 1994, she was an investment management consultant and, prior to that, she worked in institutional international investment management at both JPMorgan Asset Management and Julius Baer Asset Management. Ms. Hall is a co-founder of 100 Women in Hedge Funds, an organization created to advance the interests of hedge fund investors and practitioners. She is also a member of the National Constitution Center Board of Trustees, a member of the Financial Analysts Seminar Board of Regents for the CFA Institute, and a recipient of the National Council on Research's Women Who Make a Difference Award. Ms. Hall graduated from Smith College in 1984 with a degree in government.

Erin Arvedlund, AVP of Marketing & Special Writer on Hedge Funds, Bernstein Global Wealth Management

Erin Arvedlund is an AVP of Marketing and Special Writer on hedge funds at Bernstein Global Wealth Management, a unit of AllianceBernstein L.P., an investment advisory firm with roughly $700B of assets under management. Ms. Arvedlund is responsible for hedge fund client/investor communications, print and multi-media publications for the Private Client division of the firm. Prior to joining Bernstein, Ms. Arvedlund left journalism in 2005 to work at a start-up hedge fund doing micro-cap company research and also writing the fund's investment quarterlies and communicating regularly with qualified investors.

Prior to working on Wall Street, Ms. Arvedlund was a print journalist covering personal finance, emerging markets and public capital markets for a variety of publications, including working as a reporter for The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, Barron's magazine and TheStreet.com. She worked overseas in Moscow, Russia, both in the 1990s and then in 2003-2005 covering the oil & gas industry, finance and the emerging capital markets in general. She also worked at Dow Jones News Service as a beat reporter covering the U.S. auto industry, auto suppliers, conglomerates and IPOs.

Ms. Arvedlund has a B.A. from Tufts University; she also spent a semester abroad studying at Leningrad State University, St. Petersburg, Russia.

Amanda Cantrell, Deputy Editor, EuroHedge

Amanda Cantrell is the deputy editor of EuroHedge and has focused on hedge funds for the majority of her career as a business journalist. She has also worked on Absolute Return Magazine as a senior writer and most recently worked as a staff writer at CNNMoney.com. She has appeared as a commentator on hedge funds on ABC World News and has also contributed freelance articles to a variety of publications including The New York Times, Cosmopolitan and Pop Culture Press. She holds a master's degree from New York University, where she is now an adjunct professor of journalism.