

100 women in hedge funds™

Charter Angel Bio

Dana Fisk Pitts, Managing Director, JPMorgan Chase Bank

Dana Fisk Pitts is a Managing Director of JPMorgan Chase Bank where she manages the Metropolitan Funds Group. She has twenty-one years experience at JPMorgan, one year in her current position, two years in the Investment Banking Coverage area, twelve years in New York Global Trading Division sales management functions and six years at Chemical Bank, Hong Kong Branch, where she last jointly ran Chemical Hong Kong's Treasury group. Her previous banking experience was at Citibank in Paris and New York.

She received her B.A. from Wellesley College, a Museology degree from École du Louvre, and attended the Smith College management program and Chase Executive Development Program. Dana is a member of the New York Financial Women's Association. Dana lives in Chappaqua, New York, is married and is the mother of two sons.